

Our 2011-2012 Lead for Diversity year begins this July 24 when high schools from across New Jersey will send student delegates to learn to be peer leaders around diversity issues. When they return to school in September, they will be ready with Action Plans designed during their week at Lead for Diversity. During the school year, assisted by their faculty advisor, the students will implement their Action Plan, focused on creating inclusive school communities.

In the summer of 2010 student teams from 29 charter, non-charter public and private/independent high schools and their advisors, made the commitment to create positive change in their schools and neighborhoods. During the 2010-2011 school year, these students implemented their Action Plans, intended to affect their school populations, and impacted close to 21,000 students throughout New Jersey.

These students wouldn't be able to help foster inclusive school communities - bullying and bias free, where all students have the opportunity to reach their potential - without our PARTNERS IN EDUCATION and our many donors and event participants.
